PROGRAM ANNOUNCEMENTS:

Mark your calendar:

Willam Finck and Eli James will be hosting a Saul/Paul Seminar, June 20, in Binghamton, NY. Exact time and place to be announced. Binghamton is in south-central New York State, just north of the Pennsylvania border. The purpose of the Seminar is to explain how the language of Paul has been distorted by various religious "authorities," who have sought to make Paul a universalist and an antinomian. We highly encourage any anti-Paul people to attend, as we hope to thoroughly examine all relevant issues and answer any doubts about Paul's exclusivist, Israel-only message.

This may be your only chance to meet Bill and myself before the Judgment Day!!!
(How's that for shock advertising? Hehe!)

An email message sent out February 2nd, 2009:

No matter how many times one reads the Bible, the full implications of each statement that is read at any particular time are rarely comprehended immediately. As you all probably know, the full implications of every statement are never comprehended at all! Every once in awhile, I realize something about what I'm reading that I'd never really caught onto before. Last night I was reading John 15, and came to verse 20, which I'd read many times before but never really gave much thought to – and obviously never gave enough thought to! So I thought I'd share last night's realization with all of you. Surely this statement may have been obvious to many of you in the first place, and I've been missing it all this time, but I haven't seen anyone else write about it, so here are my thoughts anyway:

Unequivocal proof that Christ sent the Apostles to Israel only – For Israel (the Keltic, Saxon and related people) had already dispersed to “the ends of the earth”!:

John 15: 20 Remember the word which I spoke to you: ‘A servant is not greater than his master.’ If they have persecuted Me, they shall also persecute you. If they have kept My word, they shall also keep yours. 21 But all these things they shall do to you on account of My Name, because they do not know He who has sent Me.

The apostles hadn’t yet gone anywhere! So “they [who] have kept [His] word” can ONLY mean “lost” ISRAEL, for only Israel ever had His word!!!

Now if His sheep hear His voice, and the others do not, then the only viable interpretation is that they who kept themselves pure from the non-Adamic races would keep His word, and they who have race-mixed would not keep His word, and would persecute those who did.
